DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is responsive to the Applicant's communication filed on October 07, 2008.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. Claims 25-26 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter: a computer readable storage medium encoded with a program..., the claims are non-statutory as being directed to a computer program per se.

3. Claims 25-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as not falling within one of the four statutory categories of invention. Supreme Court precedent<sup>1</sup> and recent Federal Circuit decisions<sup>2</sup> indicate that a statutory "process" under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to another statutory category (such as a particular apparatus), or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing. While the instant claim(s) recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, the claim(s) neither transform underlying subject matter nor positively tie to another statutory category that accomplishes the claimed method steps, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process. For example, the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter: a computer readable storage medium which is referred as carrier wave does not fall under statutory subject mater, encoded with a program..., the claims are non-statutory as being directed to a computer program per se.

Claims 25-26 are directed to non-statutory subject matter. The claimed subject matter "a computer program" per Se is considered as non-statutory subject matter since it does not fall into any category of a process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter as required by 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 25-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention, i.e. it is unclear that claims 25 and 26 are apparatus (computer readable storage medium) or method claims (steps of correcting... ; reducing...; correcting...; calculating...).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 3-9, 12-18, 21-22 and 37-38 are allowed as indicated in the Office Action mailed on April 08, 2008.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed October 07, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With respect to the 101 Rejection, as explained above, Claims 25-26 are directed to non-statutory subject matter. The claimed subject matter "a computer readable medium" referring as carrier wave and "a computer program" per Se is considered as non-statutory subject matter since it does not fall into any category of a process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter as required by 35 U.S.C. 101.

With respect with the 112 second paragraph the claims 25 and 26 are indefinite because it not directed to a method as discussed above.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
